Riddle Of The Day

I'm the tip of safety borne
Upon the ends where riches worn,
My dented shield will push afield
The mighty lance you likewise wield.

I fend away these weapons true
You send to me as we renew.

Yesterday's Answer: A candle

Sci-Tech Song Leader Smurfed

A Satire News Story By Olivia

Yesterday, during the Boker Big Bang presentations, there was a chemical spill, per the official statement. We believe that the Boker Big Damages total nearly $10,000,000 - and large amounts of fun. Almost all of the camera footage was destroyed, but here at the Sci-Tech Times we pieced it together and showed it to top scientists. Their analysis came back positive: the chemical spill got on our song leader, Jon's, open-toed shoes. Scientists everywhere are referring to this as The Great Smurfing. We interviewed Jon about this in person. All he said was "I feel the need to sing!", "Where is my guitar? It was here..." During the interview, his veins began to glow blue and orange, the Sci-Tech colors. There is no word on lasting effects of the Smurfing, but this stands as another reminder to the importance of closed-toe shoes.
